Expression of Interest Guidelines

Place Management NSW proudly supports the celebration of Sydney's rich cultural diversity through our Cultural Festivals Program. Made up of two seasons each year our Cultural Festivals Program is hosted at Tumbalong Park in Darling Harbour.

Overview

Place Management NSW (PMNSW) is seeking Expressions of Interest from new and previous cultural festival organisers, for Festivals to be included in the Cultural Festivals program being presented in Tumbalong Park, Darling Harbour from 2021 onwards.

PMNSW is introducing the Expression of Interest process and guidelines for how festivals are presented and supported to:

- determine fair and equitable use of the space;
- set clearer expectations and timelines;
- assist organisers in the planning and delivery of their event;
- provide structure, clarity and transparency around the process.

The program includes key changes that will enable festival organisers to focus on the cultural presentation whilst ensuring a safe and well-presented festival at Darling Harbour. The key changes are:

1. To host and present a cultural festival in the Darling Harbour precinct, organisers are now required to submit an Expression of Interest to apply to be part of the new program, which will be assessed for suitability by a panel prior to confirmation of dates and commitment of the venue by PMNSW.
2. This guideline document has been produced to assist Festival Organisers submit the Expression of Interest and provide them with the best chance of success.
3. The Expression of Interest (EOI) process replaces the previous outdoor hire application process for cultural festivals at Darling Harbour. PMNSW are no longer accepting applications on a year on year rolling basis.

The other key changes being introduced include:

- Nomination of 3 preferred dates to deliver a cultural festival within a season
- Nomination of festival site plan, from templates that include approximate size and cost
- PMNSW procurement of key operational and compliance equipment on organisers behalf (charged at cost)
- A revised timeline for planning and payment schedule
- Updated terms and conditions detailed in the Cultural Festivals License Agreement
- Updated Event Planning templates and guides

This new process will result in a fairer and more transparent application process, eliminate uncertainty around bookings and deliver a more curated and inspired Cultural Festivals program.

Darling Harbour Cultural Festivals Program

Tumbalong Park at Darling Harbour

It's an exciting time for Darling Harbour, as it undergoes major renewal, and launches into its next phase as Australia's premier international event and entertainment destination. With Darling Harbour attracting approximately 27 million visitors each year, Tumbalong Park is one of Sydney's most prominent event locations.

As the landowner, PMNSW continues to celebrate Sydney's rich cultural diversity and a multicultural Australia, by supporting a series of vibrant cultural festivals at Tumbalong Park. These festivals provide an opportunity for visitors to explore different cultures through food, cultural demonstrations and entertainment.

With more businesses and residents moving into the area, there is increased interest in defining a diverse calendar of activity for the space. By presenting cultural festivals in seasons, PMNSW is able to balance the use of the space with more periods of passive green space for wellbeing, as well as light infrastructure activity, and creating opportunities for alternative experiences.

What is a Cultural Festival?

A Cultural Festival is a celebration of the traditions of a particular people or place. This includes festivals focused on a particular culture or cultures, folk festivals, arts festivals, food festivals. Cultural Festivals presented in Darling Harbour must demonstrate culturally relevant and appropriate food offerings, performances and merchandise offerings, and must be free for the general public to attend.

What are PMNSW seeking?

PMNSW is looking for Cultural Festival organisers to present well curated, professionally executed festival events specifically for Tumbalong Park at Darling Harbour. Cultural Festivals presented over one or two days of a weekend, with one day bump in and one day bump out, within the defined Cultural Festival season period. They should include a program of activity that focusses on stage performances, cultural demonstrations and workshops, as well as food and merchandise stalls, and other unique offerings that specifically demonstrate or represent a particular culture/s. Please note, we do not support political demonstrations or festivals with a political agenda. Festivals should be a celebration of culture only.

Payment Schedule

Please refer to the example timeline provided as an attachment. Specific payment dates are detailed to ensure all organisers understand the timing of payments, to enable them to effectively manage the event budgets. This also enables PMNSW to secure and pay for procured event services and infrastructure to support the delivery of the festival.

Below is a summary of the payment schedule:

At time of EOI application	$198 application fee
3 months out (90 days from event date)	$5,000 event deposit - The event deposit is non-refundable if the festival is cancelled less than 30 days prior to bump-in date

This schedule will be captured within the timeline that festival organisers are required to sign & return in order to continue with the application.

Reference Documents

The following documents are attached at the end of this guideline as a reference. To complete the EOI please review these documents.

1. Example Timeline

- This example of a timeline indicates critical planning milestones, meeting dates, deadlines for document submission, scheduled dates for invoicing and payments, and of course the cultural festival date.
- If successful, and the festival organiser accepts the offer to be part of the cultural festival program and assigned date, the venues team will create a tailored timeline specific to each cultural festival and will share this along with the templates for planning.

2. Template Site Plans & Indicative Cost Estimate

- PMNSW have determined the three (3) most feasible festival layouts and created templates for each. These layouts take into account food stall power access, bump in/out logistics, crowd flow, sight lines and impacts to precinct users
- The three (3) options for site layout (small, medium and large) give an example of indicative costs for each to help festival organisers in their planning.
- Festival organisers are required to nominate one site layout on their EOI to indicate to PMNSW what the expected size of their festival is, and to then use the indicative costs to help draft a proposed budget.
- The Large Festival layout indicates the maximum amount of food and merchandise vendors that will be accepted for the Cultural Festival program. Proposed site layouts that exceed the Large Festival layout's food and merchandise vendors allocations will not be approved for the venue.

3. Cultural Festival Licence Agreement

- PMNSW has a specific venue hire licence agreement for Cultural Festivals presenting as part of the Darling Harbour Cultural Festival Program. Please read this agreement prior to proceeding with the EOI.

Frequently Asked Questions

QUESTION	ANSWER
What is a Cultural Festival?	A Cultural festival is a celebration of the traditions of a particular people or place. This includes festivals focused on a particular culture or cultures, folk festivals, arts festivals, food festivals. Cultural Festivals presented in Darling Harbour must demonstrate culturally significant and appropriate food offerings, performances and merchandise offerings and must be free for the general public to attend.
Why are PMNSW doing an EOI program?	To allow equal opportunity across the available seasons to all applicants. To provide the organiser with clear delivery expectation information and anticipated costs for the planned size festival prior to submitting the EOI application to assist in the successful planning and delivery of their Cultural Festival
What does EOI stand for?	Expression of Interest
Can festival organisers apply to have a cultural festival at Darling Harbour any other time outside of the EOI open dates?	No. Applications must be made within the allocated time frames. Late applications will not be permitted, nor will application have made outside of the allocated times.
Can festival organisers have more time to complete the EOI?	Expressions of Interest must be completed and submitted by the application closure date.
Can festival organisers apply to hold a festival date more than 12 months out?	No. Applications must be made within the allocated time frames. Late applications will not be permitted, nor will application have made outside of the allocated times.
When can festival organisers confirm the date of their festival?	If successful through the EOI selection process festival organisers will be provided with the dates available for their applied festival a maximum of 4 weeks from EOI closure date.
What if the preferred date for the festival isn't available?	As part of the EOI process, festival organisers must choose three dates. If these dates are not available, the festival will not be successful in its application. Festival organisers can then work on improving their application submission for consideration for the next EOI season dates.
What happens if the festival organiser misses the EOI round for their preferred dates?	The festival organiser will not be allowed to submit an EOI outside of the 'open' period. They can then submit an EOI in the next round during the EOI open period only. Dates for each of the rounds are listed on the EOI form.
What happens if there are two applications from the same 'culture'?	PMNSW have limited space and time available on Tumbalong Park and are looking to showcase a range of cultures. Where there are two applicants within the same season presenting the same culture, PMNSW would only accept the one application that scored the highest against the assessment criteria.
What happens if the festival organiser needs to cancel the event?	It's the responsibility of the festival organiser to understand the financial implications of cancelling the event at key times leading up to the event once deposits have been paid to their suppliers. The

	PMNSW Event Deposit may be non-refundable. Please check the Terms & Conditions in the Cultural Festival License Agreement and discuss with the Venues team.
When will a cost estimate be provided?	Sample cost estimates based on a Small, Medium & Large Festival Layouts have been detailed in the EOI for each size festival for a 1 or 2-day delivery. These are a good indication of what festival organisers should be budgeting for. A tailored cost estimate will be made available 7 weeks out from the festival date. This will be based on the information supplied to date.
Why does PMNSW require all the documentation outlined in the EOI?	To be considered for the Darling Harbour Cultural Festival Program inclusion it is important that all festivals are submitting the same required information so they can be assessed fairly. As part of the festival planning process there is a timeline document that also outlines key planning documents and templates that need to be completed and submitted at various intervals in the lead up to each event. These are important and assist PMNSW in making sure they are accurately providing direction on what can and cannot be delivered in a busy city pedestrian precinct like Darling Harbour. The documents submitted enable PMNSW to assist festival organisers in delivering an exciting, well organised and safe festival for their community, festival attendees and visitors of the Darling Harbour Precinct.
What happens if social distancing and event restrictions persists into 2021?	Should event restrictions still be in place in 2021, the PMNSW team will work with each event individually to work through the practicalities of postponing the event further into 2021 until the ban is lifted as guided by NSW Health for mass gatherings.
Will festival organisers have to provide a contingency plan if social distancing measures continue?	At this stage PMNSW will continue to be guided by NSW Health, and planning should continue with a focus on this being detailed in the event Risk Assessment.
If accepted into the Cultural Festival program, can the size of the festival (Small - Medium – Large) be changed during the planning?	It is important that the festival organiser’s EOI is a close reflection of the festival their community group is planning to hold. The process allows for PMNSW to allocate time and resources to assist festival planning. If the festival grows significantly there may not be appropriate resources allocated to the event. In order to assist with this process, please estimate the event as larger and scale back to smaller if needed.
Can the site plan be changed?	Site maps can be adjusted slightly but not rearranged; however, this must be done in consultation with the PMNSW Event Manager and must be done at early stages of the planning. No changes to the event site plan will be permitted less than 4 weeks out from the event.
Why is there a limit to food vendors on site?	There is a limit to the number of food vendors allowed on site for a festival. The most allowed for a festival is 14 (Large Festival). This is to assist with safe delivery and compliance on site, to reduce competition between vendors and impacts to precincts, as well as to reduce cleaning and waste, and to fit within the available power in the park.

In previous years, PMNSW have organised a number on the festival organisers behalf, for example signage and picnic tables. Can this still be organised by PMNSW?	As part of the EOI process, the items that PMNSW will procure on the festival's behalf are listed. Items outside of this list will not be organised by PMNSW, however support and direction can be provided on areas outside of the scope.
What does PMNSW provide to the festival?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Support and guidance throughout the planning process • Managing compliance requirements • Procurement of limited equipment • Allocated PMNSW Event Manager • Allocated PMNSW Account Executive • Venue value in kind (4 days)
Are festival organisers required to pay the Event Deposit?	Yes. This is invoiced 4 months out from the festival date, with payment to be made by 90 days prior.
Is there a fee to submit an EOI?	Yes. $198 will be invoiced on application. This amount must be paid for the festival organiser's EOI to be considered.
If a festival is not accepted, can it be considered for the next season, or do they have to re-apply?	The festival organiser will need to reapply for the next season through the EOI program. Each season is assessed separately.
Does PMNSW offer grants or sponsorship?	No, PMNSW does not offer cash sponsorships. The Cultural Festival program comes with significant value in kind support, including venue hire for up to 4 days, some operational infrastructure, stage, speakers, truss, screen, backstage facilities, as well as support and guidance through the planning and the delivery of the festival. Festival organisers can contact the following organisations for cash sponsorship or grant programs to support the delivery of their festival: Create NSW, Multicultural NSW, Museums & Galleries of NSW.
Are there any further discounts that PMNSW can provide to the Cultural Festivals?	PMNSW supports the Cultural Festivals Program through value in kind support, for venue hire and planning guidance and operational management. Any services procured on behalf of the festivals are charged at cost with no mark up, and PMNSW works with suppliers to achieve costs savings where possible without compromising on quality. PMNSW are not a funding agency and cannot provide cash support for festivals. If festival organisers are concerned about budgeting or would like to reduce costs, they can discuss with the assigned PMNSW Event Manager who can provide guidance on where reductions can be made.
Can the festival organiser sell tickets to the festival to help cover the costs?	To be accepted as part of the Cultural Festival program it is a condition that the festival is free to the public to attend. If the festival organiser would like to ticket their festival, then they will not be accepted as part of this program and will need to apply via the normal venue hire process. Please note the value in kind support offered in this program is not offered to general venue hire events.

Can festival organisers sell tickets to experiences that are programmed as part of the event?	This depends on the experience being provided and how it links to the culture. Please discuss this with the assigned PMNSW Event Manager.
Are there ways to save money on the event equipment hire attached to the festival?	PMNSW Event Manager can assist with suggestions on ways to reduce costs. The festival may wish to consider making their event smaller or reducing their operational hours to assist with saving money. All equipment procured on behalf of the festivals is charged at cost. Also providing firm event details early in the planning process will allow PMNSW to assist with suggestions that may lead to cost savings.
Can the festival organiser arrange their own security provider?	Festival organisers can provide their own security if the contractor holds the appropriate licences & insurances. A roster of services will need to be provided to and approved by PMNSW to ensure the festival has the appropriate cover. PMNSW recommends that the festival uses 'ACES Security' as they currently provide precinct security and have the knowledge of the location and the reporting lines in place direct to the Darling Harbour Rangers.
Can the festival organiser provide their own volunteer cleaners to support the cleaning of the event and reduce costs?	It is a condition of the program that the precinct cleaning and waste contractors are engaged by PMNSW to ensure a premium standard of cleanliness and compliant waste management practices. This is charged back to the festival at cost price. A volunteer base may be useful to supplement paid resources to support sustainability practices.
Can PMNSW support recycling initiatives on ground at the festival?	Yes, the cleaning contractor can report on recycling. To manage this process, additional staffing is required to sort rubbish and document figures for reporting.
Can festival organisers use a different supplier for Audio?	Yes, however this must be approved by a PMNSW Event Manager. The proposed supplier must provide appropriate licences and insurances. For this to be approved, a PMNSW AV contractor technician is required to be on site over the duration of the festival to ensure that the PMNSW Sound System is not damaged and so that any issues can be resolved on the day of the event.
Can the bump in of festival equipment and infrastructure commence on the Thursday?	As Tumbalong Park is a premium green space in Darling Harbour, PMNSW encourages festival builds to be completed quickly and with minimal impact to the venue and general public. As part of the Cultural Festivals Program venue hire is provided as value in kind for Friday - Monday (4 days). Additional days outside of this including Thursday bump in, will attract a fee, and will be approved depending on availability and other activity happening in the precinct.
Can PMNSW support the festival with additional marketing?	Yes, PMNSW supports the festival with additional marketing activities including listing on the Darling Harbour website, social media posts (Facebook and Instagram) and via a media release. The Account Executive will notify festival organisers when the Marketing team will require information and when this information is shared via those channels.

Does PMNSW supply a dedicated Event Manager to support the event process?	Yes, a PMNSW Event Manager is allocated to each Cultural Festival. On occasion, there may be changes to the PMNSW Event Manager representative through the planning process to provide the festival with the best service and attention.
What is the role of the PMNSW Event Manager?	The PMNSW Event Manager's role is to guide and provide advice based on experience and expertise in the venue. Whilst they provide guidance and mentor festivals through the process, they are not the organisers of the event. Should festival organisers require assistance to submit documentation to PMNSW, and to deliver their event, it is recommended festival organisers hire an Event Manger on the festival's behalf.
What is the role of the PMNSW Account Executive?	The PMNSW Account Executive is the point of contact for all EOI liaison, venue enquiries, finance and legal correspondence.
Who sits on the assessment panel?	Two (2) representatives from PMNSW, as well as one (1) representative from Multicultural NSW and Create NSW.
Can the festival organiser contact the assessment panel to discuss their festival EOI and plans?	No. The names and contact details of the assessment panel will not be disclosed to ensure that there is no canvassing of panel members over the EOI process to keep the application fair to all parties involved. After the assessment, each festival organiser will be given feedback on their EOI submission, as well as advising whether they have been successfully accepted into the program or not.
